NOTICE: Our Society will sponsor a Seminar, Wed., August 25, 1976 at 7 PM at the Jackson-Madison County Library, 433 E. Lafayette St., Jackson, Tn.

WE ARE PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE that our Society will sponsor a genealogical seminar on Wednesday, August 25, 1976 at the Jackson-Madison County Library, 433 E. Lafayette St., Jackson, Tn. at 7:00 PM. Lecturer will be Garland D. Asbell, genealogist of Salt Lake City, Utah. Mr. Asbell will speak on record keeping and organization of materials. During 1975, he averaged two seminars per day. He has visited the major record repositories in the country and has information of great benefit to the beginner as well as to the professional. He is a member of the firm, Gen-cor, Inc., which specializes in seminars, publishing, microfilming, ancestral research, forms, supplies, etc. This seminar will take the place of our regular meeting in August. There will be no charge for members of the Mid-West Tennessee Genealogical Society.

OUR PRESIDENT, Mrs. Laverne Morrisette, has a new address. It is P. O. Box 682, Huntington, Tn. 38344. Her phone number is 901-986-9289.

DO YOU HAVE A GRANDFATHER OR UNCLE THAT FOUGHT IN THE WAR BETWEEN THE STATES? Then you are eligible to belong to the United Daughters of the Confederacy. You are invited to join the Musidora C. McCorry Chapter #5 of the UDC. Should you be interested, contact Judy Alpha, Registrar of that chapter. Her address is 120 Mason St., Jackson, Tn. 38301.

SUPPLEMENTARY SHELF LISTS of books in the Tennessee Room at the Jackson-Madison County Library up to June 1 of this year are now available to those who regularly use that facility. Ask Miss Emma Inman Williams or one of the other Librarians for a list if you are interested.

THERE WILL BE A CALDWELL FAMILY REUNION at Reelfoot Lake on Saturday, Aug. 14. Those attending will be mainly the descendants of James Caldwell, his wife Mary M. Bushart and his brother J. Willis Caldwell and his wife, Dicey Mann Caldwell. The brothers came to Obion County, Tn. around 1840 from Adair County, Ky. via Henry County, Tn. ANY Caldwell is welcome. Should you be interested, contact James Robert Caldwell of Fulton, Ky. or Miss Marie Caldwell, P. O. Box 724, Union City, Tn. 38261.

THE BROWN'S CEMETERY listing will be concluded in our October issue. We appreciate very much being allowed to print this listing. However, it has made it necessary to curtail use of other materials which our members have been kind enough to share with us. So, should your information not yet have been published, please bear with us.

From the Jackson Sun, July 10, 1876:

"At 11 o'clock the Grand Procession was formed on Market Street, and moved to the grounds in north-east Jackson where the celebration took place.

"The celebration was on the grounds of the Catholic Academy, in East Jackson. The spot is beautiful with grass that never dies, grand with trees that were born with the century----

From an address by Gen. A. W. Campbell on the history of Madison County:

"In 1820 the Legislature passed an act providing for the organization of new counties west of the Tennessee river. In pursance of this act Gov. Wm Carroll commissioned Bartholomew G. Stewart, David Jarrett, William Atkerson, Robert H. Dyer, John Thomas, Adam R. Alexander, Duncan McIver, Joseph Lynn, James Trousdale and William W. Woolfolk, 'Gentlemen Justices of the Peace' for Madison county. On the 17th day of December, 1821, they met at the office of Adam R. Alexander, who was also at that time District Surveyor of the 10th Surveyors District, South and West of the Congressional Reservation Line, for the purpose of organizing a Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions for the new county. The office in which the first court of the county was held, was situated about two miles West of Jackson, near the Indian mounds on the land which belongs to the family of the late John W. Campbell and Northeast of the ford on the Forked Deer River which was then known as the ford at Roberson's Ferry. This ford is about two hundred and fifty yards below Campbell's bridge.

"Robert Hughes was appointed temporary clerk and the first official act of the court was to hold an election for County Clerk, which resulted in the election of Roderick McIver. The other officers elected, were Herndon Harralson, Chairman of the Court; Thomas Shannon, Sheriff; John T. Porter, Register; James Brown, Ranger; William Atkerson, Trustee; William Griffith, Coroner; George White, John Fare, Elijah Jones and Wm. H. Doak, Constables. The Constables gave bond for the faithful discharge of their duties in the penal sum of "one hundred and fifty pounds". Why it was that the penalty of the Constable bonds was stated in sterling currency and the bonds of the other bonded officers in Federal currency does not appear. I can only account for it upon the conjecture that the clerk in drawing up the bonds used the same old form book that came down from Colonial times."

"The dinner was ample for all, but owing to a shower which came up during the feast, there was great disorder about the tables and usual grabbing and a great many quiet citizens failed to get their dinner. The ladies, however, were amply provided for, and all other who reached the tables before the rain. We regret the disorder which prevented so many from enjoying their dinner, but we assure our friends everywhere that there was provisions in abundance for all, and that enough was left after the crowd had dispersed, to have fed five hundred hungry people. It is proper to state that the feast was principally furnished by the citizens of Jackson, who not only contributed baskets of provisions, but the money with which four-fifths of the carcasses for the barbecue were purchased. However, the people of the fifteenth district, outside of the city, and the people of the tenth and eighteenth districts contributed with generous liberality. There were also scattering contributions from other parts of the county, but owing to local celebrations and other causes the county did not respond with its usual liberality to the great celebration in Jackson. We have no fault to find nor lecture to read about it, however, for we know the people of Madison county too well to question their liberality when they are interested or feel themselves able to respond."

"The day is our common heritage, and at its every annual return we should assemble around the altar of liberty, and pledge ourselves and our children, to preserve forever the love of those principles which cost our forefathers such a wealth of blood and treasure."

THE FOURTH IN CARROLL - 1876

(Taken from the Jackson Sun, June 29 and July 6, 1876)

Dr. W. M. Wright, Chairman of Fourth of July celebration, says "--225 carcasses, mutton and shote, have already been subscribed for the barbecue and ample money raised to prepare the grounds, and defray the necessary expenses. There will be speaking, music and dancing and abundant provision for the inner man.

"At sunrise the citizens of Huntingdon and vicinity were rudely aroused from the sweet morning slumber, that is so refreshing during the 'heated term', by the firing of artillery and the music of the bells, ushering in the natal day of the Republic.

"At 9½ o'clock, the procession formed at the C.P. Church, headed by the Huntingdon Brass Band, with the Goddess of Liberty sitting in front, and the splendid banner overhead. Immediately following were the young ladies and little girls representing the States and Territories: citizens on foot, in vehicles and on horseback, rather promiscuously bringing up the rear.

"The procession moved up Nashville Street to the square, and amid the blaze of enthusisasm the large flag was hoisted to its conspicuous place above the heated multitude. The procession then moved forward to the martial music discoursed in elegant style by the band, which was under the leadership of that accomplished musician, Professor Will Cooper. Chief Marshal Williams with his assistants conducted the perspiring hosts to the adjacent bottom where the stand had been erected for the orator of the day.

"The Declaration of Independence, was read by Mr. H. C. Townes, in splendid style: and then followed a song by the ladies, "The Red, White and Blue" which was beautifully rendered.

"Judge Alvin Hawkins delivered an exceedingly interesting address, giving a very comprehensive and accurate history of the county, which should be published or otherwise suitably preserved in the archives of the county. There were between six and eight thousand people present, and we never saw a greater number of people trying in vain to "be happy" under difficulties. It was hot, almost blazing hot, and the pleasant breeze felt like a Simoon as it passed away from the determined patriots, who had assembled to shed the last drop of their perspiration for the cause of Independence.

"Hurrah for Carroll. She never does things by halves."

A LIVELY ROW. - On Thursday, Capt. Shorpshire of the Merchant's Hotel, and Mr. Ransom Hopper, had a difficulty about business matters, which resulted in blows. The combatants were separated, but returned to the field each armed with a pistol. Mr. Hopper was intercepted by the police as he moved on Capt. Shropshire and in the scuffle his pistol went off, slightly wounding officer Robt. Rawls and a Mr. Lee. Saving a couple of black eyes and a couple of sore shins, there was no serious damage done. We regret the difficulty, for both parties are good citizens.
---Jackson Sun, July 6, 1876

LIGHTENING. - During the thunderstorm on the afternoon of the 4th, a persimon tree near the residence of R. L. Lindsey in the western part of the city, was shivered by an electric bolt, and two fine milch cows and a beautiful pony, the latter belonging to Miss Pet McCorry, were killed. The cows were valuable ones and belonged to Mr. Rerdon and Mrs. Swink.

The loss of the pony to Miss McCorry is a serious one, as he was one of the most beautiful and tractable animals in the city.

LETTER FROM CYRUS SYKES TO WIFE, JULIA GRACE BLAIR SYKES

Tupelo, Miss.
July 4, 1864

My Dear Julia,

I seat myself this afternoon, to write you a few lines. I am Quite well at this time, and hope this will find you and the children enjoying the same blessing. I have no news of interest to write you. We are all in camp here, near Tupelo, but I dont know what time we will start out after the yanks. They are reported to be at Lagrange, on the Ole C railroad. I would not be Surprised to start after them any day. The

The news from Arkansas is cheering. Price Whipped them East of Little Rock and Pine Bluff, Johnston is still holding Sherman at bay. I see boys from there nearly every day. They say our boys are killing a great many of the Yanks and drive them back every time they advance.

I thought the other day we would have been on the road to Tennessee but the order was countermanded. I think we will go after a while.

Julia I have no news to write you now, as we have been in camp ever since our fight with Sturgis. I am writing to let you hear from me. I have been on Police Guard all day. I would have written you a long letter were it not for that, and I did not know that I would have an opportunity of sending your letter until this morning. I will expect a letter from you when Parson L. G. Lane returns. I am very impatient for him to get here. I think he's to be here on the 8th, July.

James Anojs Tenia Mitchel G. Gordon, Roof Gooch, and Capt. Gooch is Mates. James Anojs is one of the best fellows I ever met with. He and I went into the fight together according to agreement, he's a good Soldier and a good boy in Camp. I think a good deal of Willis Small. He is very kind and accomadating to me. He will do anything almost that I want him to do. I am with Lewtesman Mangrum, Mollie Bumpases old man. He is quite a clever fellow. Captain Gooch was slightly wounded. I would give twenty dollars to see you now. It is late and I am still on guard so I will close by saying present kindest regards to your papa's family. I would like for him to get me a horse, but I would want a good one, for a sorry horse cant stand the racket. My little mare stand up very well, though I would like to have another good horse, larger than this. Give my best love to Martha and the children. Kiss my Mother for me. Kiss both Dick and Jesse, and the same to your self, my Dear Julia.

From your Cyrus Sykes

Write ever Chance you get, give my best respects to Mrs.
Barry Clark and Ed.

(This furlough written on a scrap of ledger paper in pencil.)

MEMOIRS OF HARDY FOWLER, GIBSON COUNTY, TN. (1821-1898)

(The following is a remnant which is all that remains of these memoirs shared with us by Hardy Fowler's great-great granddaughter, Mrs. Jane Hollis, 3057 Egan Dr., Memphis, Tn. 38118)

In 1840 I taught my first school at eleven dollars per month; it was at a time when money was very scarce.

Cotton was down to four and five cents per pound and every thing else in perportion; and money was worth more than at any other times.

This was a public School; but we had no Normal then, neither did we have any County Examiners; but the three School Commissioners of each district decided as to the qualifications of teacher to teach in their districts. But this was at a time when lawmakers had some regard to the burden they imposed upon the people. I taught a number of other schools in that Country (Gibson Co., Tn.) before I came to Arkansas.

I got reasonable wages for them the highest wages I ever got in that Country was 25.00 per month, I generally pleased the people. In April 1843 I determined that I would change my life and endeavor to prepare for the life to come. I was a Seeker of religion for several months, and mourners were never called in all this time when I was present, but what I presented myself; and I had the prayers and instructions and encouragement of many good, and noble men and women, but they have gone from labor to reward. And I shall now soon go and join them. I was never satisfied until the seventh of September that was in 1843.

I then became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

This was before the division of the church; and when that occurred I could but remain with the Methodist Episcopal Church South. I was baptised by Jacob Mathis, and by immersion his brother Edler Elisha Mathis united me and my wife in holy Matrimony.

I think it was in 1842 that I became a candidate for Constable of Civil District No 1 in Gibson County, Tennessee. I had two competitors, Carlton Mathis and Robert Love the latter ran ahead of me three votes, while the former was away behind. So in this my first attempt at Public life I was defeated, of which I was afterward very glad, for that office would not have suited me.

I afterwards held some Military offices in that County which I wish to write about; and some explanations will be necessary. The Militia of the State at that time was well organized.

The State was laid off into Regiments; the Regiments were divided into a first and second Battalion; each Battalion was subdivided into four companies.

The Regiment was commanded by a Colonel Commandant, and a Lieutenant Colonel. The Battalions were commanded by a first and second Major. Each company was commanded by a Captain and a first and second Lieutenant. The Governor of the State was the commander in Chief; and in certain emergencies could call the Militia or parts of it into actual service in the field.

I lived in the bounds of the 119th Regiment, it embracing about one fourth of Gibson County, and the South East corner of the County. A regiment generally contained from 800 to 1,000 men subject to Military duty. In May 1846 I was elected Captain of the Company in which I lived; Christopher Butler was my competitor in this race, he was a nice gentleman. On the 30th of November 1846 Aaron V. Brown then Governor of Tennessee signed and issued my commission as such Captain.

When I had held this office about two years, there was a vacancy for the office of 2nd Major. I became a candidate for that office. William P. Tate an old school mate was my opponent a nice gentleman; but I was elected by a large majority; but on the 7th of October 1848 I was commissioned by Neil S. Brown then Governor.

When I had held this office nearly three years the Colonel resigned, and I was elected to that office without opposition.
